OBLIGATION

OBLIGATION	SIZE	DESCRIPTION
Frontier Justice	20	Baroon Saa has a score to settle with the Empire after it destroyed the Sages of his homeworld. His desires go beyond the Empire. He believes that only with the truth can justice be served. He carries this about through a form of frontier justice with an end goal of one day bringing down all evil in the galaxy.

STORY

Born on Kel Dor, Baroon Saa was witness to execution of the Baran Do Sages. The Sages had been keepers of knowledge and Wisdom. They foretold the future through the force and were able to protect many from disaster, war, and destruction.

Having seeing their demise first hand inspired Baroon to want to Rebel against the evil Empire, and made him want to carry on the tradition of storing information despite him not being Force Sensitive. For a religion that was of such peace and out for only helping others is a tradition worth saving.

Recently Baroon Saa as found himself in the Outer Rim working among the scum and villainy of the galaxy to survive. He is always on the watch out for any intelligence he can gather. For he wishes to expose the Empire's atrocities. He goes under the cover identity of "The Baron" His mission is to restore the Baran Do Sages. Teaming up with the Church of the Force, he hopes that one day he can gather enough data to be able to use it to run a program that will allow him to predict the future of events much as the sages did with the Force in the past.

This is where his adventure begins...
